

The Piggly Wiggly Jazz Cafe presents

Featuring LAMAR BROWN from ALABAMA
as 'Hoke Coburn' in the all-time favourite drama

DRIVING MISS DAISY

9, 10, 16, 17, 23, 24 November

Daisy Wertham, a wealthy Jewish widow in America's Deep South, is forced to employ black chauffeur Hoke Colburn after she wrecks yet another car. Their initial rocky relationship changes over the course of many years to become one of friendship and respect, as the country also matures under the influence of the civil rights movement. This tale by Alfred Uhry, directed by Lilian Harrington, will be performed in an American Diner atmosphere at the Sandgate Town Hall (corner of Brighton Rd & Seymour St) at 7.30 pm (doors and bar open from 7 pm). Tickets are $18 Adult, $14 Concession (unemployed, pensioners, groups of ten or more) and $5 children (5-12 yrs). For bookings call Donna on 0433 137 849 or email theatrebooking@yahoo.com.au.

With hotdogs, sloppy joes, doughnuts, burgers, coffee & coke, piano & live jazz,
and the Southern Belles Singing Group!
